Job interviews

We offer a paid job to all participants during the first month of their stay in France.

Job interviews take place during the first 4 weeks in Paris. The first interview can be scheduled during the first week.

Be reactive. Preparing and attending the interviews are mandatory.

You must be available at all times throughout the recruitment process in order to be informed about your next interview.

You should also contact us immediately after each interview.

We have implemented a flexible schedule, allowing you to meet the employers when you are not in class. It may be that the interview takes place during the course; in that case, you must inform the school and your teacher. This case must remain exceptional.

FRANCE LANGUE will not expect you nor force you to attend all classes, however you will not be reimbursed for the classes missed. If at the end of the interview, the employer does not accept your application, we will offer you a new interview. We can offer up to 3 interviews. In case of denial, no refund will be made.

It is essential to wear business attire during your job interviews.

Attention : a maximum of 3 interviews will be set up for each student.

Work in France

The opportunities of jobs are in the fields of tourism, retail store, and sale. The duration of the work contract depends on the needs of the employers but we take care of your preferences.

The job can be either part-time or full-time according to the sector, habits of the employers and your preferences.

We'll take in account your level of French, your background and your behaviour in order to define your position, your tasks and responsibilities that will be given to you in the company. All kind of professional experience will enrich your CV for the host company.

We disclaim all responsibility for internal issues that might arise with management or employees in the company.

«The French & Paid Job» programme is a linguistic, cultural and human experience.

You will learn French at school and in a professional environment different from your country.

You will work in France and discover the workplace «à la française». To take full advantage of the job, you must adapt and show motivation, curiosity and dynamism. In order to guarantee an enjoyable atmosphere, it is important to communicate spontaneously with your supervisor and team.

Your arrival at France Langue

In order to best organize your arrival, you must inform us of your trip details (departure and arrival) as early as possible, at least 15 days prior to your arrival in France.

You will arrive in Paris, where you may use our accommodation and airport transfer services.

The Monday after your arrival, you will start your French programme, which will last at least two weeks according to your level. An orientation meeting is set up to help you with the administrative procedures and prepare for your interviews.

The course is arranged for you to meet employers outside of your course hours. The job will usually start once the French course is over.

ACCOMMODATION

You may use the housing offers listed in our directory in order to facilitate your integration into the country during your stay.

Examples of housing offers:

- Host families (no meals, B&B, half board)
- Student residence including breakfast (diner possible on request)

SERVICE +

For a smooth arrival in France, opt for the host family! You can decide to stay there for a month, in order to better adjust yourself to the French way of life. Our team is at your service in order to help you find the best option most suited to your needs!

GREETING AND AIRPORT TRANSFER

On request, a driver welcomes you at the airport or train station, and drives you to your place of residence in Paris.

Practical information

Insurance

In order to come to France, you must first subscribe to an insurance that will be valid for the entire duration of your stay. The European Health Insurance Card gives European citizens access to medical care everywhere in Europe. Please make sure to get all the information before you leave your country.

Nevertheless, we advise you to subscribe to an international insurance plan, as it provides better coverage, especially to people that work abroad or join a Work & Holiday programme.

Contact France Langue for more information.

Average wage

You can either work full-time (35 hours per week or 39 hours in the catering field) or part-time. No matter the position, you will receive a salary in line with the minimum wage in France.

You'll receive around 1100 euros per month.

Additional expenses

- Plane or train ticket
- Accommodation
- On-site transportation
- Food
- Insurance
- Personal expenses

It is recommended to arrive in France with a minimum of 1 500 € to cover your personal expenses.

Rule of procedure

1. The proposed Programme is open to European Union citizens, Waiver Visa and Work & Holiday Visa programmes.
2. Participants can start the Programme at fixed dates, every first Monday of the month, for a maximum duration of 12 months.
3. Each participant shall agree to read and abide by all rules and guidelines of the Programme, as defined by France Langue and by the organisations in collaboration with France Langue.
4. «The French & Paid Job» programme offers a job in the fields of service, hospitality and tourism industry.
5. France Langue cannot guarantee that an application will be processed in less than 2 months. Travel arrangements, purchase of a plane ticket, or any commitment made by the participant shall in no way result in priority processing of his/her application, nor obligate us to provide any service.
6. Participants shall have access to services offered as part of the Work Experience in France for the duration of the job. Beyond this period, the participant will continue to work on the French territory but he / she will no longer be the responsibility of France Langue and no longer receive the benefits of the programme.
7. Implementation of the Programme involves various organisations which shall, in any event, maintain their respective responsibilities as stipulated in bylaws governing their activities, national laws or international conventions which may establish limits of liabilities, among other provisions.
8. All participants are responsible for reading and fully understanding all of the information provided by France Langue and its partners regarding judicial, legal, social, political, health, work, and other matters in France. Moreover, all participants shall agree to respect French culture and customs and to abide by French law, and shall be held fully accountable in case of violation.
9. The information in the application is correct as of the day it was published. It is subject to change without notice.
10. The prices of the Programme are purely indicative, non-contractual, and may be subject to change. Only the prices indicated upon final registration, thus appearing on the invoice/registration confirmation given to participants upon registration shall be firm and definitive. These definitive prices shall serve as reference for any matter concerning the modification or cancellation of the Programme.
11. All participants are responsible for providing true and accurate information to France Langue. All participants must be fully aware that any false statement on their part may lead to the cancellation of their Programme, without any right to a refund or compensation.
12. All participants confirm that they meet all of the requirements, including but not limited to age, nationality and status, for participating in the «French & Paid Job» programme. France Langue and its partners reserve the right to refuse any Programme application from participants who do not meet the eligibility criteria.
13. Upon registration, all participants are required to inform France Langue of any physical and/or psychological condition, medical treatment or health problem susceptible to interfere with their participation in the Programme or with a successful experience.
14. Upon registering for the «French & Paid Job» programme, all participants must be able to prove that they possess the necessary financial means for a successful stay in France. Participants attest that they shall have access to at least €1 500 upon their arrival in France.
15. France Langue guarantees neither the place nor the type or duration of the job. The final offer of employment is subject to the will of the employer and the participant can't refuse a job offer.
16. All participants understand that a maximum of 3 interviews opportunities will be offered to them. France Langue assumes no responsibility in the event that a participant is not able to find a job after 3 interviews.
17. Each participant is required to comply with the rules of the company. The participant is required to work for the entire period for which he / she was recruited (e) and can in no way break the work contract or shorten it. Similarly, France Langue and its partners cannot be held responsible for the conduct or attitude of host companies and not recommend any.
18. The non-European participants, regardless of whether they are in possession of a French visa will receive by the French government a temporary work permit needed to work legally on the French territory.
19. Within 5 days of hiring, the participant is required to send the request of temporary work permit to the DIRECCTE, and for each new job. It is down to the employer to declare the participant to the French social security system at the time of hiring.
20. The temporary work permit is issued by the competent French authorities who reserve the right to refuse the assignment. France Langue cannot intercede on behalf of the participant.
21. All participants understand that they must have insurance covering medical expenses, hospitalisation, and repatriation, for the duration of their stay in France.
22. During registration for the Programme, participants have the opportunity to either provide France Langue with a proof of insurance showing the type of coverage provided, or adhere to the insurance offered by France Langue.

Paris, the world famous French capital, is a not-to-be missed tourist destination. Economic heart of the country, Paris is also one of the best student cities in the world*. With its 20 "arrondissements" (districts) crossed by the River Seine, Paris has everything to seduce and surprise the visitor: from historical monuments, parks and gardens, famous museums and lesser-known sights. However, Paris is also a different way of life: enjoy a croissant at a pavement café, lounge on the banks of the Seine, admire the architecture, head to the market or shops... Whatever you are looking for during your stay, Paris offers you the perfect blend of activities and relaxation!

Have breakfast at the Trocadéro facing the Eiffel Tower

Our France Langue Paris Victor Hugo school is in the heart of the 16th arrondissement, the bourgeois district to the west of Paris, close to numerous museums and famous sights such as the Eiffel tower, the Trocadéro or the Bois de Boulogne. Our school offers courses and specialised modules that will initiate you to the French lifestyle.
